Audubon Wildlife Film Presented by BERA

With Grand Teton National Park as the setting, Charles T. Hotchkiss of the National Audubon Society will present his film "Teton Trails" on Tuesday, September 22, at 8 p.m. in Berkner Hall.

The magnificent Teton Range which lifts abruptly from the valley to a height of over 7,000 feet, bordering Jackson Hole, Wyoming, provides a striking backdrop for this colorful film. The mountains take on different aspects at different times – they reflect an alpine glow at sunrise; mirrored magnificence in the lovely piedmont lakes of early morning; tremendous rocky spires at midday; and rugged silhouettes against a brilliant sky at sunset.

Mr. Hotchkiss creates a panorama of the past, present and future of this western territory in Teton Trails. We follow the many animals, large and small, who forged the first trails into this isolated valley. We visit Indian villages and examine artifacts of the tribes that spent their summers hunting and fishing in the shadows of the Tetons. The proud history of this land reveals stories of mountain men, gold miners, and settlers who in turn followed these trails seeking fortunes and futures.

Today the main trails of the Teton Range are preserved and maintained in the Grand Teton National Park. They are still a lure to those seeking the solitude and adventure of the back country wilderness.

As we wander through this lovely land we come upon a newly born moose calf, and a sage grouse on the traditional strutting ground. We watch the nesting and ensuing family life of the majestic trumpeter swan, on its way back from near extinction

A dramatic and fitting climax to the film is the climbing of the Grand Teton, the highest peak of this range. The climb requires about 2,000 feet of rope work, and there are many exciting and thrilling moments.

Admission will be $1.25 for adults and $.75 for those under 18. Tickets may be obtained at the door, in advance through members of the Mountain Club, or at the Recreation Office.

BNL (3) 4 vs Eellport Clippers (0) 2

In their home game against Bellport Clippers on Sunday, August 20th, BNL started and came near to scoring several times in the first 15 minutes with Bellport's efforts coming from breakaways. However, the game was half an hour old before BNL went ahead with a fine shot by Gelletly who, a few minutes later, put BNL further ahead after the Bellport goalkeeper had made a fine save but could not hold on to the ball. Five minutes before half-time, the Bellport full-back handled the ball and Hubberstey scored from the spot. The half ended with the score of three goals to nil in favor of BNL.

At the start of the second half, BNL relaxed their grip on the game and Bellport scored a good goal from close range. Thus encouraged, the Bellport team came more into the game and Cantera made a number of good saves before Preece rammed a left foot shot between a defender and the goal post to increase BNL's lead. A few minutes from time, Bellport further reduced the arrears when their inside forward scored a fine opportunist goal. This ended the scoring in a well contested game where BNL's experienced players triumphed over the young and enthusiastic Bellport team.

We are planning another interdepartmental competition for the fall and spring season so how about entering a team for this seven-a-side competition. Contact K. Batchelor on Ext. 7771; R. Fairchild on Ext. 7193 or J. McCafferty on Ext. 2582 if interested in entering a team. Meanwhile, we continue to hold practice games on Monday evenings at 5:30 p.m.

Cafeteria Art

Sidney Guberman, a Philadelphia artist, holds up a corner of his abstract painting, Chester Bump. The 9 by 9-foot canvas is on extended loan to Brookhaven National Laboratory for display in the cafeteria.

Here and There

Claire Lamberti

G. Kalbfleisch, T.F. Kycia, A.H. Mueller, S. Ozaki, N.P. Samios and F. Turkot (all of Physics) attended and presented papers at the XVth International Conference on High Energy Physcis, Kiev, USSR, from August 26–September 4; N.P. Samios also presented a rapporteur talk at the Conference.

Lewis J. Greene (Biology) has recently accepted a reappointment as Affiliate at Rockefeller University, New York City, for one year.

Hurley Meyers (Biology) recently participated in the 2nd Annual Summer Course in the Biology of Aging at Stanford University, California.

Dr. Stephen Feldberg (DAS) will present two invited lectures and chair a session at the Second International Summer Conference, Rovinj, Yugoslavia, September 14-23.

L.G. Stang, Jr., Barry Gordon, Elliot Lebowitz, William Eckelman and Clemens Auerbach (all DAS) will attend the 160th National ACS Meeting, Chicago, Illinois, September 13–18; L.G. Stang, Jr. will present an invited paper; Barry Gordon and William Eckelman will also present papers.

New Season Begins At The Camera Club

With the approaching of Autumn, and with livable temperatures in the dark room the Camera Club is ready to initiate a new season. This year, both the 35 mm and the $2\frac{1}{4}$ x $2\frac{1}{4}$ enlargers will be provided with high quality enlarging lens (El-Nikkor), and an electronic aid for facilitating greatly the exposure of black and white as well as color prints will be installed.

The first meeting will be held on Tuesday, September 15th at 8 p.m. at the Recreation Building (Apartment area). It is important that last year's members, as well as new and prospective ones attend. Officers will be elected, plans will be made for the new season, and a new list of members authorized to use the dark room will be started. Come and join.

Football Notes

by Jack Brennan

The six interceptions by the Gazelles paved the way for a shutout over the Hi-Balls, 19-0. Andy Fogarty, Les Lawrence and Jim Hooper received touchdown passes from Bob Caisey while Hooper played a fine defensive game.

Bob Jansson touchdown interception broke open a tight game as the Slow Pokes scored 20 points in the second half to defeat the Red Dogs 27-7. Jansson also received a touchdown pass from Tom Prach as did Rick McGoey and Jack Brennan. Stampelos scored for the Red Dogs.

The Staggering Six threw a shutout at the Phoubars while scoring twice. Stan Anderson and Bill Ivory had the T.D.'s.
